| • Administering company programs | • Supervising others |
| • Maintaining inventory accuracy | • Investigating inventory discrepancies |
| • Electronics troubleshooting | • Explaining tasks to others |
| • Delegating responsibilities | • Improving company processes |

My job responsibilities include managing inventory, manual labor, supervising and mentoring junior employees and implementing new company programs such as a revised inventory management system. I was responsible for closing the store for many years and I was and still am the youngest employee to be given the opportunity to continuously close as well as open the store. I have been given responsibilities equal to senior employees with 20+ years' experience, and a specialist title, which is only given to the top 25% of employees at our location.
